

Our Lady of the Sacred Heart students going to Trenton

User Rating: / 0

Poor Best Rate

Catholic Schools - Catholic School News

WRITTEN BY EDITORIAL ASSISTANT

THURSDAY, 22 JANUARY 2009 20:52

On Monday, Jan. 27, the sixth to eighth grade students of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart Regional School, Barrington, will visit the New Jersey Catholic Schools Marketing Council's Catholic Schools Week display at the Statehouse in Trenton thanks to a grant from the Eagleton Institute of Politics awarded to fifth grade teacher Danielle Hurd.

"We knew we were meant to go after receiving the Catholic Schools Week's display information the same day we received our grant funds from the Eagleton Institute," said Mrs. Kathleen Fields, Principal.

< Prev Next >

Highlights in Sports

Upcoming basketball games

Friday, 06 February 2009

Upcoming games: the 5-11 (at press time) St. Joseph's boys' team plays Overbrook Feb. 7 at...

+ Full Story

Opportunities for Youth

Opportunities for Youth & Young Adults

Friday, 23 January 2009

Ladies Ancient Order of Hibernians is presenting the National Irish History Writing Contest for...

+ Full Story

Latest In School Briefs

National Geographic Bee

Friday, 06 February 2009

Holly Walsh, a sixth grade student at the new St. Michael the Archangel Regional School won the...

+ Full Story