

Poll finds NJ voters give Gov. Christie high marks, but split on re-electing him

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

October 09, 2012 - 3:30 am EDT

<http://www.therepublic.com/view/story/e28c973789a34f7688c1c59f49130cac/NJ--Christie-Poll>

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. — A new poll finds New Jersey voters think Gov. Chris Christie is doing a good job, but they're not positive about re-electing him.

In a Rutgers-Eagleton Poll released Tuesday, 47 percent of voters rate his performance an "A" or "B" — the best marks they've given him since the poll began asking the question in February 2011.

Still, nearly one in three voters gave the Republican a "D" or "F."

Forty-four percent said they would re-elect him and 47 percent said they wouldn't — a result within the poll's margin of error of plus or minus 3.5 percent.

Christie has not said whether he will seek re-election next year.

The telephone survey of 790 registered voters was conducted from Sept. 27-30.

Story copyright 2012 The Associated Press. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.

We also have more stories about:
(click the phrases to see a list)

Category:

- New Jersey

Subjects:

- State governments
- Government and politics

Places:

- New Jersey

Follow Us

Content enhanced with OpenCalais.

